7. Description Of Incident

I was starting on the left side, one of the first few boats. Then suddenly, the CRO boat came, sailing on port. We screamed and said starboard, but the CRO boat did not take action in any sort of way. Resulting this, we had to do an emergency tack next to the CRO boat in order to avoid damage. Because the tack was so quick and spontaneous, my crew was still on trapeze and fell into the water, which almost made the boat capsize. Because of all this we lost a lot of places at the start and managed to round the mark on around 20th place, instead of fighting for the top spots, which the results show.
