7. Description Of Incident

We approached the bottom gate on starboard (right mark looking downwind) and zing also approached to the right and upwind of us. As the mark approached and we entered the 3 boat lengths there was clearly no room and no overlap. We hailed to Zing to keep clear and no response . As we approached closer to the mark Zing did not change course although it looked like they tried to . This ended in us forced to go wide and let them in .

We both rounded the mark side by side and after about 5 boat lengths we began to come hard on the breeze and after another 3 boat lengths zing did not alter course and there was a collision . This caused damage on the port side gunnel of zing quite close to their bow.

We again hailed protest and zing were then forced to slow and fall beneath us and no turns were taken.

8. Damage Or Injury

Near the bow on the port side gunnel of zing .
