Other Comment: After the end of the last race, on land, I approached him announcing my intent to protest him displaying the damage done by his boat

7. Description Of Incident

We are navigating on port tack, the protested boat tacks, I fall off to avoid him and acquire speed, after noticing he was slow to restart the boat and was not yet on the new tack I decided to try and pass on front of him. At the last second he manages to regain control of his boat and hits my starboard tiller, bending it and de centering my rudders, resulting in lack of performance.

8. Damage Or Injury

The starboard tiller was bent, resulting in decent erred rudders and thus lack of performance in that race and the one after. After the 11th race I managed to compensate the damage.
