7. Description Of Incident

Both boats started on starboard. 208920 tacked first and 222622 followed. I tacked back and I had enough room to do so. He was approaching on port and he tacked when I called starboard. I tacked back and he tacked again. And I tacked again and I was on starboard, he came really close and tacked even though he had enough time and opportunity to avoid me by ducking or tacking earlier. Hence I had to avoid him while he was tacking by pointing completely upto head to wind and hence I had to tack and change my proper course. Therefore he has broken rule 13.
